The Albuquerque Genealogical Society

A non-profit organization founded in 1972 with three main goals:

- 1) to promote genealogical research;
- 2) to provide educational tools to assist members in researching; collecting and compiling; and sharing and publishing family history and genealogy; and
- 3) to support the genealogy collection and services of the Albuquerque/Bernalillo County Library.

The society meets monthly to review projects and library news related to AGS as well as to provide quality programs of genealogical or historical interest. Meetings are open to the public and free. We invite all those interested in researching family history to join our society for many benefits. Members receive an AGS quarterly newsletter full of information about our activities as well as articles to improve research skills. Special interest groups meet at various times of the month. These include regularly-scheduled free workshops for beginning genealogists and other programs of interest.

Albuquerque is privileged to have easy access to the Genealogy Center that has been collecting a wealth of historical and genealogical information for many years. There are also computers with genealogical web sites readily available. The librarians and volunteers are knowledgeable and are there to assist and advise in family history pursuits and research.

Please feel free to contact one of our officers or committee members for additional information. We hope that you will consider joining our society and sharing in our journey as we all seek to learn our family histories.
